Photography

My passion for photography comes a long way, but I only joined the Vereeniging Photographic Society in 2008. I have completed many photography courses and also attended JAP training.

I am an avid National as well as International Salon participator (I already received 30 International Salon acceptances) and successfully applied for my first PSSA diamond ratings. On club level I am on the Master Platinum level.

I received my LPSSA honours form PSSA in 2015.

Currently I am serving on the VPS management committee as Chairman and previously I was the PRO as well as the vice chairman.

I also have been privileged to participate in 4 International photography exhibitions.

Professional Career

I am currently the regional sales manager for the Dutch based multinational company AkzoNobel in South Africa looking after all regional sales personnel (AkzoNobel market its products in South Africa under the brand name Dulux paints). Previously I was the local Brand Manager in the marketing department for the same company.

With my professional career background as well as my passion for photography I am willing to serve the members of PSSA.
