

Some memorable Boksburg Camera Club members

It is not known with certainty who founded the Boksburg Camera Club club in 1985, but it is believed that it could have been the renowned press photographer, Jan Hamman. A report in the Boksburg Advertiser of October 1990 about Jan receiving the Press Photographer of the Year award, identifies him as chairman of the club.

Jan Hamman was one of the foremost South African press photographers between the 1970's until his death in 2024 after a long battle with cancer. He was 57.

Before joining the Afrikaans daily Beeld in 1975, Jan was the youngest ever chief photographer at the Afrikaans Sunday newspaper Rapport. He joined Beeld shortly after it was first published in September 2024 and later became a Specialist photographer, and also served as chief photographer, of the publication.

"Known for his wildlife and sports photography, Hamman had a hand in the fame of cricketer Jonty Rhodes, with his image of the fielding legend diving for a ball," said Beeld chief photographer, Halden Krog, in a tribute. "His images were also a central part of high-jumper Hestrie Cloete's training regime, helping her to refine her jumping technique and raise the bar to world-beating standards."

Beeld showcased his work in a tribute exhibition at its offices in November 2024.

"He was one of the old school of press photographers, and certainly one of the last who did his job in a jacket and tie," Chris Barron wrote in a tribute in the Sunday Times. "Photography was his life and he did everything from sport to nature and the environment, although wildlife was his particular passion and his idea of heaven was time spent in the Kgalagadi game park in the Kalahari."
